

Learning to Look 2017-18

"Old Master Painting and Sculpture"

Learning to Look is a joint middle school parent/child program.

This year's curriculum, "Old Masters Painting and Sculpture," includes artists such as Rembrandt, Vermeer, Rubens, Bernini and El Greco.

Lori Amer, a Learning to Look instructor, will present the program through interactive dialogue and hands-on activities, culminating with a trip to the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Who may register? Parents and their children in grades 5 through 8 from Seven Bridges and Bell

How often do we meet? 6 times in the evenings from 7:00-8:00pm and once for a museum trip

When is it held? Wednesday evenings, 10/25, 11/15, 12/13, 1/24, 2/14, 3/14

When is the museum trip? Friday, April 20

Where will the sessions be held? Seven Bridges Middle School

What is the cost? $90 for one parent and one child, $30 for a second child (from the same family) and no charge for any additional children (or parent) from the same family. Transportation and admission to the Met is not included (any family requiring financial assistance should contact your school principal)

When is my registration due? Friday, September 29th

Register now. We can only accommodate 50 families. Registration is first come, first serve.

Parent Name _____ Middle School _____

Email _____ Phone _____

1st Child's name and Grade _____ @$90= $90

2nd Child's Name and Grade _____ @$30= _____

3rd Child's Name and Grade _____ @NC= $0

Total= _____

I understand that all students must be in grades 5-8 and accompanied by an adult to each lecture and that I will provide my family's transportation and admission to the museum.

(signature and date)

Please make checks payable to Chappaqua PTA and mail to Chappaqua PTA, P.O. Box 5, Chappaqua, NY 10514

If you have any questions, please email Alex Potashner aepotashner@yahoo.com

Learning to Look is a wonderful opportunity for parents and children to learn together, jointly developing a lifelong interest in the arts!